STOP WALL STREET ABUSES — WITHOUT HURTING CAR BUYERS ON MAIN STREET.

Wall Street caused the economic crisis, not Main Street auto dealers. So why is the U.S. Senate considering financial reform that would paint both industries with the same regulatory brush? Treating small-business auto dealers like Wall Street bankers would threaten economic growth and severely limit a consumer's ability to find affordable financing to buy a car or truck.

The House, for good reason, voted not to include auto dealers in the Wall Street reform bill.
The Senate should do the same.
